PRINCIPAL’S REPORT

GROWING WITH THE COMMUNITY

We are here to support the academic, social and emotional development of our students to be resilient to the challenges of a rapidly changing society.

SENSATIONAL SCIENCE LEARNING

Our 5/6 learning team have recently been undertaking a Science Inquiry focus. Last week, the students keenly shared their individual findings with their peers and 5/6 families after school and with students from other levels during the school day. All students diligently set up for the showcasing of their work, making sure they were fully prepared. The breadth of topics covered was immense as was their choice of presentation styles. I have seen such presentations before but I was again touched by the confidence all students displayed in sharing their knowledge and the key understandings they’d gained.

It was wonderful to see how the students had been guided by our teachers to undertake their personal inquiries and AusVELS science had been made relevant and meaningful.

The students were also asked to consider taking their message beyond the school gate. One fine piece of work that I am able to share via our newsletter is that of Will’s in Ms McGregor’s class. Will’s area of investigation was the physics of sport. He chose to present his learnings on the following link www.tinyurl.com/manvsscience. He has obviously put many hours into his work and should be commended as should the other students.

WORLD TEACHERS’ DAY

A big appreciative thank you to all the parents and children who last Friday acknowledged World Teachers’ Day with such lovely gestures. The parents provided us with a yummy morning tea and I noticed many children with a little something or some nice words of best wishes to assure their teacher that they appreciate all that they do. It was just what we needed.
WORKING BEE
We have called a working bee for Saturday morning, November 9th between 10am and 12 noon. There are some normal but important cleaning and spreading and gardening jobs as usual. We don't ask too often so it would be appreciated if many hands could make light work. Please look for the working bee notice and reply slip this week.

AUDITORY PROCESSING WORKSHOP
Last Monday, Lesley Tan, an audiologist, presented a very interesting workshop to parents in the afternoon and staff at our staff meeting. Lesley focussed on auditory processing in children and how we as teachers and parents can support children in this area. Lesley has produced a set of books that may be of interest to parents. Behaviours, Communication and Auditory Processing - $4.50, Auditory Processing at Home - $4.50 and Auditory Processing for Under Sixes - $10. If parents would like to purchase one or more of these, please write your name, your child’s name/grade and order on an envelope with the correct money enclosed. We will be able to distribute the booklets to you. I ask that orders be in by this Friday. A sample of these booklets can be found at the office.

BABY NEWS
It is with great delight that Grade 1 teacher, Ms Nikki Sommerfeld, along with her partner Nick, announce to the Carnegie community that they are to become proud parents in the new year. We congratulate them and wish them well. At this stage Nikki intends to take leave from the end of term 1 until the end of next year.

GRADE STRUCTURES FOR 2014
For your information, after most families have returned their intentions for 2014 forms, we have an expected 2014 enrolment of approximately 500 students. We will run 20 classes, one more than this year. We will have 4 prep grades, 3 grade ones, 3 grade twos, 3 grade threes, 3 grade fours and two grades each of fives and sixes. Additional teachers and Education Support Officers will support all teams at varying time fractions depending on class structures. Student teacher ratios will remain as low as possible during key teaching and learning times. Further details will be shared with families prior to the end of term and as in previous years children will know their 2014 class before we finish up for the holidays.

WORK AROUND THE SCHOOL IN COMING WEEKS
- Work on the shaded, tiered seating area, between the hall and the 1/2 Learning Centre has commenced. The area has been cordoned off while the works are undertaken. I’m sure the students will keenly watch the progress over the coming week. We will try to keep disruptions to a minimum and we anticipate the fencing will only need to remain for a couple of weeks if all goes to plan.
- I have continued liaising with the DEECD Facilities branch and the double classroom ‘mod 5’ portable that is needed to meet our facilities requirements for 2014 has been sourced and work will commence tomorrow to bring this on site on Friday. After careful consideration, it has been decided that the best positioning of this will be next to the existing year 6 portable. Preparation will begin immediately so the classrooms being operational for the commencement of the 2014 school year. Like the works above, there will be some unavoidable disruption but we will manage this to ensure it’s kept to a minimum.

PREMIERS’ READING CHALLENGE
As you know a number of our students chose to participate in the Victorian Premiers’ Reading Challenge. This year The Age has published an Honour Roll online. Students who completed the Challenge will be able to view personalised video, as well as download a personalised front page of The Age as a celebration of this year’s Challenge. From Sunday 27th October, students can access the new online Honour Roll from the Premiers’ Reading Challenge website: www.education.vic.gov.au/prc

Congratulations to all those students who participated. I’m sure many hours of enjoyment was had as collectively thousands of pages were read. Well done all ©
FIREWOOD FREE TO A GOOD HOME
One of the trees near Kokaribb Road has been cut up and will be suitable firewood for next winter. The pieces are large (suitable Coonara or similar) but it is already cut up. Come and see Linda if you would like to collect this wood.

SCHOOL CROSSING PEDESTRIAN AND TRAFFIC SURVEY
The city of Glen Eira have notified us that they have engaged a suitably qualified traffic survey company to pole mount video cameras to record the number of vehicle and pedestrian movements at crossings during the school drop off and pick up time. This data will be collected over coming weeks. The cameras will typically be located for one to two days.

WORDS OF WISDOM –
Teaching kids to count is important but teaching them what counts is more important.

Linda Jones & Michael McCarthy

PARENTING IDEAS BY MICHAEL GROSE – Parents don’t always see instant results
There aren’t too many activities you do where it can take years to see the results. Parenting is one of them.

As your kids grow up, you put in a lot of groundwork teaching them how to behave, how to be confident, how to treat others well and so on. But you don’t always see the REAL results of all that effort until your kids are adults.

Nevertheless, you’ve got to keep doing the right thing regardless, even though it takes a lot of faith.

I was reminded about this when speaking to a mother recently whose son had struggled at school all his life. She’d put so much of her emotional and physical energy into helping him learn, jollying him along and nursing him through the many ups and downs that only struggling kids seem to experience. Her son, now a teenager, was about to give up trying.

And I could see that his mother felt like giving up too! She asked: “When do you stop being a child’s coach and cheer leader?” The answer, of course, is that you can’t!

She knew that but, like her son, she needed some encouragement to keep going. We all do from time to time. That’s why it useful to remind yourself that parenting is a long-term activity.

The Einstein Factor
All parents should be aware of the Einstein Factor. Albert Einstein was one of the preeminent scientists and thinkers of the 20th century, yet he maintained that he was no smarter than anyone else. He believed he just stayed on problems longer than most people. In the same way, there are some children with whom you just have to stay on the job longer than you would with others.

If you have a shy or socially-challenged child you might have to stay on the job until adulthood, when she finally finds her own way of building a network of friends and colleagues. Until then, it’s all about supporting, coaching and cajoling. If you have an ADHD-type child you might have to keep on the job longer to keep him out of trouble. You may not see the results until his mid-20s when all that energy goes into starting up his own business or doing something absolutely amazing. In the meantime, explain, teach and be firm!

If you have a late bloomer you probably have to keep him interested in learning until he learns the practical skills needed to succeed in the workplace or in business, just as many kids who struggle at school end up doing.

In the meantime, encourage, scaffold and model learning. We all want instant results in whatever we do. Parenting is no different, except that instant results are rare!

Everyone is very welcome to come and see the results of our textile creations.

It was harder than it looked but I was surprised as I did better than I thought I was going to do. Max W

I think the textiles activity was awesome because you can make a pillow that describes you and express yourself through the colours and the design that you create. Hana G.P

I was most proud of putting stuffing in my pillow. I experienced success sewing my heart onto my pillow. Emma L.

Honestly this was the first time that I learned how to sew and I think I did really well. Ruby M

I am most proud of how my pillow looks. It has a blue cat on the front. Sai D

I thought it was really cool that everyone had a different design and every pillow reflected their learning. Leah S

RSL Poppy Appeal

Every year CPS supports the RSL poppy appeal. The poppy appeal is commemorating all of those who fought, died or suffered in all wars and armed conflicts. The money that is raised is used to assist the returned service men and women back into civilian life.

Remembrance Day is very important because we should acknowledge the men and women who have sacrificed so much for our nation. These people have endured things that no human should have to worry about. They have made the ultimate sacrifice for our country, so it only seems right that we should give a bit back to them.

To show your support to the men and women who keep our nation a safe and free country just make a donation or buy some of the merchandise. To buy a poppy it costs only $2. A Key tag costs $4. And a wrist band costs $3 (but we have limited stock). You can buy these items before and after school in the grade 6 portables next week.

So please show your support and buy an item or 2 and remember to have a minute’s silence at 11:00am on the 11th of November to recognise the ultimate sacrifice the service men and women made for our country.

“cyBer safety awareness”

Dear Parents and Guardians,

Young people today are immersed in digital technologies. They use the internet and mobile phones to socialise, study, exchange ideas and play. While online activity has many benefits, there are also risks.

To help your children stay safe online, Carnegie Primary School is hosting a Cybersmart Outreach—Internet Safety Awareness presentation. Designed for parents, this presentation is provided by the Australian Communications and Media Authority (the ACMA) as part of a national program of cybersmart initiatives.

The Cybersmart Outreach—Internet Safety Awareness presentation is thorough and non-technical. It covers a range of issues including:

- the ways children use the internet and emerging technologies
- potential risks for children online, such as cyberbullying, identity theft, inappropriate contact and exposure to inappropriate content
- tips to help children stay safe online.

The presentation is conducted by an ACMA Cybersmart trainer and is free of charge.

Carnegie Primary School is committed to helping students develop appropriate behaviours when using digital technologies, both at school and home. Students in years 3-6 will also be participating in a Cybersmart Outreach—Internet Safety Awareness workshop on Thursday 14th November during school hours. The staff at CPS will also participate in a workshop run by the same presenters. Having the same company facilitate our student, staff and parent presentations will ensure that we are all on the same page and are receiving the same, consistent, message.

The Cybersmart Outreach—Internet Safety Awareness Parent presentation will be held on:

Thursday 14th November at 6.00pm – 7.15pm in the school hall.

To register your attendance, please return the attached slip to your classroom teacher as soon as possible. Enrolments will also be accepted on the night. (Strictly adults only)

Regards,
Liz Harley

SCHOOL EMAIL ACCOUNTS

As part of the new AusVELS curriculum, it has become necessary for our senior students to be issued with school email accounts to develop skills such as composing emails, organising inboxes and replying to emails where appropriate.

Our Year 4 to 6 students have recently received their own school email accounts. The accounts are run through Gmail, however have the domain name @carnegieps.vic.edu.au.

Advantages of using Gmail include:
• teachers have administration rights to delete, modify and reset passwords
• it is currently free
• all email accounts have ‘@carnegieps.vic.edu.au’ and therefore it is easy to spot emails from accounts not associated with our school
• Gmail accounts can be used to log into other educational tools, for example blogs.

Before children received their email accounts, they revised and demonstrated their understanding of the school’s Acceptable Use Agreement as well as discussed Cyber Safety issues and what to do in certain situations.

We ask that parents support their children’s appropriate internet use while at home.

Some key points brought up in classes include:

⇒ Never reply to people you do not know.
⇒ Never tell anyone personal information (surnames, phone numbers, addresses etc).
⇒ Report any rude or bullying messages to a trusted adult immediately.
⇒ Do not share your password with others.
⇒ Do not click on links via email from unfamiliar accounts.
⇒ Do not send/post photos of other people without their permission.
⇒ Once a photo has been put ‘online’ it can never be removed from the internet.
