1. Carnegie Primary School Profile Statement

Carnegie Primary School was established in 1888 and is located at the intersection of Glenhuntly Rd and Truganini Rd, Carnegie in the City of Glen Eira. Student enrolments have increased over recent years with stronger numbers enrolling in Prep. The area is continuing to change quite dramatically in respect to the number of families with young children. This change in demographics fares well for the school growth over the coming years.

- Carnegie Primary School currently has a student population of 506 students, 373 families.
- Of the 506 students, 121 are from a Language Background Other Than English. The families come from 22 different cultural background and 37 families receive EMA.
- Student attendance data in the school level report indicates that our student absent data is similar to the state mean.
- Five students currently receive funding under the Disabilities and Impairments program.

The school is committed to ensuring that numbers of students within classes are kept to a minimum. Our organisational structure consisted of nineteen grades with specialist sessions in LOTE Italian, Physical Education, ICT and The Arts. An Instrumental Music program is outsourced to expert instrumental teachers.

Our goal is to develop students’ personal and social learning skills which will enable them to be successful, confident and tolerant individuals, able to contribute positively to society. We focus strongly on maintaining and fostering our school as a learning community, which values interaction between and contribution from students, parents, teachers and the wider community through:

- providing an environment that is safe and secure
- facilitating effective communication to foster a strong partnership within the school
- providing equal opportunity for all members of the school community
- providing regular professional development for staff
- valuing and facilitating academic excellence
- supporting students to attain their individual potential by building on their strengths
- encouraging, recognising and rewarding achievement and effort
- developing in students such qualities and social skills as tolerance, responsibility, communication, independence, problem solving, creativity and respect
- providing and fostering a cooperative environment where students can share the responsibility for their own learning, behavior and health
- maintaining and developing our school grounds that consist of a large grassed oval, cricket pitch, practice nets, basketball and netball courts and sets of shaded fixed play equipment.

To actively support the curriculum areas, the following enrichment programs and extra-curricula activities are provided: ‘You Can Do It’, Better Buddies program, Reach Rookies, Tournament of the Minds, NSW Exam program, Transition programs (Kinder to Prep and Year 6 to Year 7), Perceptual Motor program, school-based leadership, intensive swimming, excursions, incursions, house reward system, camps, interschool sports, lunchtime activities and Student Representative Council.

In acknowledging that a team of students, staff and parents working together produces the best educational outcomes, the school encourages parent participation in many capacities. Our school is well supported by an enthusiastic community, an effective School Council and Parents and Friends Association which successfully co-ordinates a range of community and fundraising activities. Parents participate in school maintenance activities, work voluntarily and contribute directly to learning programs such as literacy, numeracy, sport, Inquiry Units and excursions.

Teacher professional learning is valued at Carnegie Primary School. We dedicate part of our staff meetings to Professional Development. There is also an expectation that staff members who attend outside Professional Development will present their findings to level and staff meetings. We offer opportunities for our staff to run professional development sessions, as we value the expertise within our own school.

We also have professional learning teams with a focus on literacy, numeracy, ICT, portfolio/thinking and sustainability. These teams discuss professional reading and ensure that the strategies and approaches adopted by our staff are implemented with integrity. These teams also use data available to them in order to cater for the specific needs of our school environment.
2. Whole-school Prevention Statement

How we support positive behaviours and relationships

Carnegie Primary School aims to provide a positive, safe, supportive school culture where all members of the school community feel valued; are provided with meaningful opportunities to contribute to the school; and have every opportunity to meet their personal and education potential.

Our Mission statement states that we are here to support the academic, social and emotional development of our students to enable them to be resilient to the challenges of a rapidly changing society.

Many positive strategies are used to connect and extend students, including an engaging curriculum and extra curricula programs such as health and physical education, music, visual arts, ESL and LOTE (Italian), ICT, English and Mathematics Challenges, camping, excursions, sustainability programs, life education, lunchtime activities and chess club. There is also a commitment to all aspects of the district interschool sporting programs.

Student voice is encouraged through participation in the Junior School Council, Envirostars, Year 6 Leadership roles and Prep- Yr 6 Buddy Program and formulation of negotiated classroom rules at the beginning of the school year.

A high level of communication is created to assist in the smooth running of the school. Parents receive fortnightly newsletters and term class newsletters informing them of the learning focus and welfare programs. Carnegie values the active involvement of parents. We foster this cooperative approach through sharing of information at ‘You Tell Us’ sessions, information forums, Inquiry learning opportunities, parent-teacher interviews, via phone calls, emails, meetings and celebration of special events. Parents actively support School Council and Parents and Friends Association.

Carnegie knows that it takes a whole community to support student learning and behaviour. Relationships are the basis for fair, respectful and democratic classrooms and schools and we give students opportunities to take responsibility for their behaviours and to be part of the decision-making process.

In encouraging and building this cooperative approach it is acknowledged there will be behaviours and events that occur that compromise this ideal. When this occurs the school will use positive and proactive behaviour management approaches. Where appropriate the school will inform and involve parents in these processes.

Effective teaching, inclusive and engaging curriculum and respectful relationships between staff and students continue to be a focus through professional learning. A key component of the school’s approach to prevention is teaching positive behaviours and the use of logical consequences to address both appropriate and inappropriate behaviour. The school practises a strong values program based on the “You Can Do It” program. A ‘Start Up’ program is implemented at the commencement of each year. Each classroom develops their own values, vision and mission statements, which is an opportunity to establish classroom processes and encourage a sense of belonging.

The focus is on developing a whole school culture through a cohesive team approach to behaviour management; one that empowers all staff to commit to managing their own behaviour and student behaviour positively and proactively. An intended objective is to produce teachers who are skilled in managing all classroom interactions, resulting in substantial change in student behaviour, attitude to learning and hence, student achievement. The school continually reinforces positive behaviour and this is supported by our Wellbeing policies, attached with this document.

Student achievements including academic, social and performing arts are recognised weekly through Whole School Assemblies, school newsletter and within daily classroom programs. ‘Student of the Week’ awards focus on reinforcing positive student behaviour, effort, attitude and achievement which in turn promotes high levels of self esteem.

The foundation of our positive school culture is the active participation of all members of the school community, so they feel valued, safe and secure, are provided with meaningful opportunities to contribute to the school and have every opportunity to meet their personal and educational potential.
3. Rights and Responsibilities
The Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act (2006) outline a vision of human rights for all Victorians. The charter affirms that all people are born free and equal in dignity and rights. While the charter demands equality for all, it also emphasises the value of difference. The charter requires public authorities, including government schools and their employees to act compatibly with human rights and to consider them when making decisions and delivering services.

3.1 Guiding principles
Every member of the Carnegie Primary School community has a right to fully participate in an educational environment that is safe, supportive and inclusive. Everyone deserves to be treated with respect and dignity. The following rights and responsibilities are applicable to all students, teachers, volunteers and parents/careers.

3.2 Equal Opportunity
The Equal Opportunity Act 1995 sets out the types or grounds of discrimination that are unlawful and aims to promote community recognition and acceptance of the equality of men and women, and the equality of people of all races, regardless of their religious or political convictions, their impairments or their age.

Under the act it is unlawful to discriminate against a person on the basis of the following attributes:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age</th>
<th>Breastfeeding</th>
<th>Gender identity</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Impairment</td>
<td>Industrial activity</td>
<td>Legal sexual activity</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marital status</td>
<td>Parental status or status as carer</td>
<td>Physical features</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Political belief or activity</td>
<td>Pregnancy</td>
<td>Religious belief or activity</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Race</td>
<td>Sex</td>
<td>Sexual orientation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Personal association (with a person who is identified by reference to any of the above attributes)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

3.3 The Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006
The Charter sets out a list of 20 rights that reflect the following four basic principles:
- Freedom
- Respect
- Equality
- Dignity

The charter outlines a vision of human rights for all Victorians. The charter affirms that all people are born free and equal in dignity and rights. While the charter demands equality for all, it also emphasises the value of difference. The charter requires public authorities, including government schools and their employees, to act compatibly with human rights and to consider human rights when making decisions and delivering services.

- The right not to be discriminated against
- The right to privacy and reputation
- The right to freedom of thought, conscience, religion and belief
- Cultural Rights

It is important to understand that with human rights comes a responsibility to respect other human rights. All DEECD employees must act compatibly with the Charter and give proper consideration to human rights when making decisions. Everyone should:
- Encourage compliance with the Charter
- Support others to act compatibly with the Charter, and
- Respect and promote human rights
3.4 Students with disabilities
The Disability Standards for Education 2005 clarify and make more explicit the obligations on schools and the rights of students under the Disability Discrimination Act 1992. The standards cover enrolment, participation, curriculum development, student support services, and harassment and victimisation.

An education provider must make ‘reasonable adjustments’ to accommodate a student with disability. An adjustment is a measure or action taken to assist a student with disability to participate in education and training on the same basis as other students. An adjustment is reasonable if it does this while taking into account the student’s learning needs and balancing the interests of all parties affected, including those of the student with the disability, the education provider, staff and other students.

In determining whether an adjustment is reasonable, an education provider should take into account information about:
• the nature of the student’s disability
• his or her preferred adjustment
• any adjustments that have been provided previously
• any recommended or alternative adjustments.

This information might come from the student, an associate of the student, independent experts, or a combination of these people.

3.5 Bullying and harassment
Definitions
Harassment is any verbal, physical or sexual conduct (including gestures) which is uninvited, unwelcome or offensive to a person.

Bullying is repeated oppression, physical or psychological, of a less powerful person by a more powerful person or group.

Cyberbullying is a form of bullying which is carried out through an internet service such as email, chat room, discussion group, online social networking, instant messaging or web pages. It can also include bullying through mobile phone technologies such as SMS. It may involve text or images (photos, drawings) Examples of cyberbullying behaviour are:
• teasing and being made fun of
• spreading of rumours online
• sending unwanted messages
• defamation

Cyberbullying can happen to anyone and the bully can act anonymously if they want. People can also be bullied online by groups of people such as class groups or collective members of an online community.

It is important for the school to provide a safe and friendly environment for students and staff and to encourage care, courtesy and respect for others. All persons have a legal right to protection from harassment under the Commonwealth Sex Discrimination Act and the Victorian Equal Opportunity Act.

The effects of harassment or bullying include
• poor health – anxiety, depression
• lower self esteem
• reduced study performance
• missed classes, social withdrawal
• reduced career prospects

At Carnegie, if a student sees another person being harassed or bullied we advise them that they should tell the person that you witnessed the incident and advise them to report it to an appropriate person. However, if your friend is harassing another person, let them know that their behaviour is unacceptable.

• Bystanders who do nothing to stop bullying may be contributing to the problem by providing an audience for the bully
• Harassment is usually directed at a person because of their gender, race, creed or abilities. It can be subtle or explicit.
Bullying can be:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subtle: (The most common)</th>
<th>Explicit: (obvious)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Offensive name calling.</td>
<td>• Requests for sexual favours.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
