GROWING WITH THE COMMUNITY
Welcoming, Engaging and Achieving

We are here to support the academic, social and emotional development of our students to be resilient to the challenges of a rapidly changing society.

GRADE 2 SLEEPOVER
What a great Year 2 sleepover we had again this year! Thanks to Mr Miller for organising the event and all staff who so generously gave up their evening. Thanks also to the staff who arrived early on Friday morning to assist with breakfast and supervision. I joined the students in the early evening and it was wonderful to see all our Year 2 students so happy and excited. They were bubbling with enthusiasm to share a fun night with all with their friends. We hold this event annually in preparation for our Year 3 camping program. This time away from their home encourages independence and confidence in the students. They shared dinner together, played a number of games inside and out, prepared for bed and then snuggled down for a video before dropping off to sleep. There were many early risers the next morning and I’m sure there were lots of early nights on Friday!

THANKS YET AGAIN TO OUR WONDERFUL PFA
A very sincere thank you to those PFA mums who provided a scrumptious morning tea for staff on World Teachers’ Day. It was a yummy spread and staff all tuckered into so many delicious treats. Your thoughtfulness and kindness was much appreciated.

END OF YEAR FAMILY PICNIC
We are once again planning a special end of year picnic on Tuesday 16th December. We invite everyone to bring a picnic tea around 5pm with a short concert to follow. Full details of the evening will be sent home shortly but please pop this date on your calendar as the end of the year is a busy time for many families.
ORIENTATION PROGRAM
Our first of four Prep Orientation Programs sessions for 2015 preps occurred on Friday. We will be welcoming approximately 80 new preps to our school next year. Some are brothers and sisters of children currently at Carnegie Primary while other families will be joining our wonderful community for the first time. Thanks to the large number of senior students who enthusiastically assisted with the first of our planned activities. What excellent advocates for our school they were! Leadership opportunities such as this are a pivotal part of our school culture. Our students always undertake responsibilities such as these so diligently, showing kindness and consideration to our new preps.

GRADES FOR 2015
The majority of families have returned their intentions for 2015; we have an expected 2015 enrolment of approximately 540 students. We will run 22 classes, two more than this year. We will have 4 prep grades, 3 grade ones, 3 grade twos, 4 grade threes, 3 grade fours, 3 grade fives and 2 grade sixes. Additional teachers and Education Support Officers will again be in all teams with varying time fractions depending on class structures. As always, there will be some staff changes which we will inform you about in due course. All students will have a chance to indicate the small group of friends they would prefer to be with in 2015 and teachers will ensure they will all have some of their choices. We always do our best to make the most suitable groups in the interests of all. Children will know their 2015 class before we finish up for the holidays.

MINISTER’S VISIT
Last Wednesday we had a visit from State Education Minister, Martin Dixon and local liberal party candidate, Theo Zographos. They had a short tour of our school and then met with us to make a commitment of $1.2 million to upgrade the facilities at Carnegie Primary should they remain in office. Like any principal, I welcome funding commitments from any source or party and it is important that I remain non-partisan at this time. We believe Carnegie is entitled to be high on the list for funding whichever party is in power after the state election.

CHOOK FOOD AND STRAW FREE TO A GOOD HOME
There are some chicken pellets and straw remaining from when we had our school chickens. They are still in good condition and free to a family who may have chickens of their own. Please call into the office if your chickens could use it. First in best dressed!

PREMIERS’ READING CHALLENGE
This year celebrated the tenth year of the annual Victorian Premiers’ Reading Challenge. Sixty eight CPS students who chose to participate in this challenge recently received a certificate to acknowledge their fine efforts. I know our students enjoyed reading and /or sharing a wide range of novels, picture story books, poems and non-fiction pieces. Congratulations to all those students who participated. I’m sure many hours of enjoyment was had as collectively thousands of pages were read. Well done all. 😊

TEACHING TOLERANCE
Our school, like all others is made of a diverse range of people all with unique qualities and talents. Respecting one another is one of our very important school rules that we reflect on often in our school days. As adults we can teach respect and tolerance by example — and in other ways, too. Talking together about tolerance and respect helps kids learn more about the values you want them to have.

Giving children opportunities to play and work with others is important as well. This lets kids learn firsthand that everyone has something to contribute and to experience differences and similarities.

Things we can do to help kids learn tolerance include:
• Notice our own attitudes. Parents who want to help their kids value diversity can be sensitive to cultural stereotypes they may have learned and make an effort to correct them. Demonstrate an attitude of respect for others.
• Remember that kids are always listening. Be aware of the way you talk about people who are different from yourself. Do not make jokes that perpetuate stereotypes. Although some of these may seem to be harmless fun, they can undo attitudes of tolerance and respect.
• Select books, toys, music, art and videos carefully. Keep in mind the powerful effect the media has on shaping attitudes. Point out and talk about unfair stereotypes that may be portrayed in media.
• Answer kids’ questions about differences honestly and respectfully. This teaches that it is acceptable to notice and discuss differences as long as it is done with respect.
• Acknowledge and respect differences within your own family. Demonstrate acceptance of your children’s differing abilities, interests and styles. Value the uniqueness of each member of your family.
PARENTING IDEAS BY MICHAEL GROSE - BEDTIME - A CHECKLIST

Bedtime and children’s sleep habits can cause nightmares - for parents, that is! Sleep is obviously important for children as it promotes health, well-being and learning. Current opinion in educational and health circles is that kids currently don’t get enough sleep. Around nine to ten hours seems to be a minimum for most ages, even teenagers.

Getting bedtime right is also vital from a parental angle so you get some space and time for yourself and your partner. But children do not always see bedtime from a parent’s perspective. They often dispute calls for bed and complain loudly that it is too early. Procrastinators, hardened debaters and jack-in-the-boxes often come to the fore around bedtime.

If bedtime presents difficulties in your home use the following checklist of tried and true strategies to make sure bedtimes run as much as possible in your favour:

1. Decide on a time with your child then stick to it. There are no hard and fast rules about appropriate bedtimes for children. However they should suit both parent and child. Discuss appropriate bed-times with children. Some youngsters fail to see that sleep is a biological need. They see it as something imposed on them by parents. I am constantly amazed how reasonable children can be when they have had the chance to participate in the decision-making process.

2. Establish a 30 minute bedtime routine that signals the end of the day. A known routine such as quiet time, drink, toilet and story lets children know what is expected of them and enables them to plan accordingly.

3. Reduce over-stimulation before bed-time by ensuring children are engaged in passive activities such as homework, reading or watching television.

4. Temporarily remove distractions at bedtime for bedtime resisters. Sometimes turning off the television can be enough to send children to bed.

5. If you have a procrastinator focus on your behaviour, not theirs. I know a parent that begins reading a bedtime story whether her child is in bed or not. As her daughter treasures her story this is generally enough to have her rushing to the bedroom.

6. Distinguish between ‘in bed’ and ‘being in the bedroom’. Children differ in the amount of sleep they need. It maybe more realistic to expect some kids to be in their bedrooms at a set time, rather than in bed. Once away from the adult world children generally fall asleep fairly quickly. Young children may remain on their beds surrounded by a favourite toy or books to keep them occupied before they fall asleep.

7. Resist children’s efforts to involve you by ignoring calls for drinks or assistance with forgotten homework at bedtime. Once in bed ignore their calling out for ‘one more story’, a drink or toilet-stop and demonstrate that you are unwilling to play their ‘keep you busy with them’ games.

8. Avoid sitting with young children until they fall asleep. This may be all right once in a while or for emergencies but habits are easily formed and often difficult to break. Many parents who sit with young children until they drop off discover that they have made a rod for their own backs.

9. Ignore or return boomerangs to their rooms and give them minimum attention. Children will generally tire of being jack-in-the-boxes when they get little feed-back for the behaviour. If you have an extremely persistent boomerang then you may have to steel yourself for several nights. Be persistent and give little feed-back to them.

10. Make sure you wake them at the same time each morning. If you overcompensate and allow them to sleep later to make up for lost sleep then you are encouraging a late sleep pattern.

Impress upon children that night-time is your time and as such is extremely precious. Short of a nightmare or an earthquake, you do not wish to be disturbed by children. If they have difficulty getting to sleep or wake up then it is their job to put themselves back to sleep or occupy themselves until they fall asleep.

Our Junior School Council News

CPS FOOTY DAY

We would like to thank everyone who came along in their footy colours to support Motor Neurone Disease Australia on our Footy Day at the end of term 3. Miss Lockett and her family were very touched by the support received from the CPS community in our efforts to raise money to support people living with this terrible disease. Together we raised over $300, which was a great effort!

TEACHER STUDENT SWAP DAY!

On Wednesday 26th November, the JSC are holding a Teacher / Student swap day. This is to raise funds for the State School Relief Fund that provides money to support families that can’t afford things their children need. It helps to provide them with basic school needs, such as uniforms and books. If you would like to dress up, please bring a gold coin donation to help raise money so that more disadvantaged kids have a better education and a brighter future. Remember to have the confidence to connect! (Grace Wang)

Sports News:

A huge congratulations goes out to Kevin Healy in 4C, who last month competed in the State Athletics Carnival. Competing in the Discus in the 9/10 year old age group, Kevin finished in an incredible 2nd place in the entire state. What makes this feat even more outstanding, is that Kevin was competing against boys one year older than him in the double age group. We are already looking forward to what he will accomplish next year in the same age group. Carnegie PS is very proud of your elite performance, Kevin. Well done!

Science and Sustainability News

MOVE OVER JAMIE OLIVER!

The veggie patch is brimming with delicious food and Sustainability Club is cooking weekly on Thursdays while our harvest is in.
Our first scrumptious dish was silver beet frittata and many children hadn’t tasted silver beet before or knew how delicious it was. There were many converts who couldn’t eat enough on the day.

Last week we made our traditional favourite chocolate beetroot muffins with our terrific beetroot crop.

This week we are planning to make spinach and ricotta filo rolls. Yum!

Planet Ark’s National Recycling Week: Nov 10-16, 2014
Let’s make an extra special effort to recycle and re-use at home and school during National Recycling Week.

Teacher Talk with.... Mrs Travers

Each newsletter we will be chatting to a different teacher to find out a little bit more about them and hopefully what makes them tick. Today we talk to 3C’s teacher Amy Travers. This week the Grade 6 Camera Club took Mrs Travers’ portrait and she chose Sophie Rowsell’s photograph for the article.

How long have you been teaching at CPS?
This is my third year at CPS and my fourth year of teaching altogether. I feel very fortunate to have found a school community as welcoming and nurturing as Carnegie. The staff are an amazing bunch and my students always make the classroom an exciting place to learn.

Are you originally from Melbourne?
I’m a born and bred Melbourne girl, although if you asked Miss Lawerson she would say I’m from the country! I grew up and still live in Ferntree Gully in the eastern suburbs.

Have you travelled much? If so, do you have a favourite destination?
I’ve travelled to Thailand, Malaysia, Bali and The States a couple of times, relaxed in Fiji and backpacked through Vietnam. My all-time favourite holiday was to South Africa in 2007 where I visited some amazing places. I was privileged to stay in a private game reserve where my husband proposed to me and I got to see ‘The Big 5’ up close.

When you were young, what was your favourite pastime?
I loved to sing and dance. My step-sister and I would attempt to write our own songs, bringing out the tape recorder on many occasions to record our ‘hits’... sadly we never made the big time!

Were you a sporty kid at school or were you more of a bookworm?
I was more of a sporty kid at school. I played tennis and netball growing up and did Little Aths for a few years. School athletics days were always my favourite with my specialities being the 100m and triple jump. Before studying teaching, my first university degree was in Sports Coaching and Administration.

If there was one thing you could make sure your students learnt from you, what would it be?
To always be happy knowing they tried their best, and not to measure their success against anybody else.

What do you do to relax on the weekend after spending a week with 9 year olds?
I like to catch up with my family and friends. I’m very close with my mum so I often have lunch with her and go for a spot of shopping. I also enjoy watching the football, although being a Richmond supporter means that it is not always relaxing!

After the last Teacher Talk we now know Mr Acklom was a ballet dancer in a previous life. Do you have any hidden talents, which no one knows about?
I am definitely not hiding anything as impressive as Mr Acklom, but when I was young I won a Pound Puppies (a popular toy in the 80’s) competition at Southland where I had to bark like a dog!

If you could have dinner with 3 famous people from the past or present, who would they be?
Bruce Willis – I’m a big fan of his from his ‘Die Hard’ days, Louis Theroux – I love watching his quirky/hard hitting documentaries and The Queen.

If you were left to live on a desert island-what 3 things would you choose to take with you?
1. The cast from the TV series ‘Lost’- those guys know exactly what to do!
2. A photo of my family and friends - to always remember them
3. A never-ending pack of Tim Tams – so I never go hungry.

Mrs Travers in 30 Seconds...
Favourite food: Mum’s homemade spaghetti bolognese – yum!
Footy team: Richmond
Favourite band/singer: Pink
Favourite TV show: Friends & The Mentalist
Favourite movie: The Shawshank Redemption
Ideal Holiday: One that involves a mix of adventure and time to relax by a pool

AFTER SCHOOL CARE NEWS:

We have decided due to low demand, that we will not be offering care before Christmas (As proposed for Monday 22nd December and Tuesday 23rd December).

The January 2015 Holiday Program is going to commence on Monday 12th January 2015 until Wednesday 28th January 2015. (The day before students commence school for the new year). The Holiday Program and booking form for January 2015 will be available in next fortnight’s edition of the school’s newsletter.

Any children who are 4 years old and commencing primary school in 2015 are eligible to utilise the January Holiday Program. Simply register your child, by filling out an enrolment form, which is available either online (www.ylv.com) or via the service.

The program would also appreciate any old men’s shirts. These will be used as art smocks at the program.

OSHC TEAM
CHRISTMAS BAKING - Last session this Tuesday!
Come along tonight (Tuesday 11th November) at 7.30pm in the staffroom for our final baking session which teaches you how to decorate a beautiful Christmas Cake.
We will be requesting bakers to fire up their ovens in the next couple of weeks for the Koornang Rd Street Festival on Nov 22nd. This is when we hold our famous Christmas stall selling beautiful home made cakes and gingerbread houses.

ELECTION DAY CRAFT MARKET – November 29th
We are holding a Christmas Craft Market on Saturday 29th November while the polling booth is open in the school hall for the State Election. We will be holding a craft market of various stall holders and as a school we will be running a BBQ and a cake stall. We will be calling for volunteers in the next couple of weeks for bakers and BBQQuers! (see ad on the following page)

SUSHI DAY
We will be squeezing in one last Sushi day for the year on Wednesday 26th November. Notices will go home next week.

ICY POLE FRIDAYS
The PFA will be selling icy poles on Friday lunchtimes until the end of term. Only $1 each!

2015 FETE NEWS
We are currently planning what is sure to be the biggest and best Fete ever, but we need YOUR help!
Last week a note went home requesting donations for next year’s Fete. We would love to get hold of:
- Books
- Plants or pots for plant stall (black plastic or ceramic)
- Clean, label-free jars (for the “lucky jars”)
- Novelties for the lucky jars ie. stickers, wrapped lollies, small toys, etc
- Or clean jars already with novelties in them!
Donations can be left in the hallway between the office and staffroom. Plants can be left behind the grade 4 portable near the bike shed.
Thank you in advance for your support!

Thank-you!
